Dehesa del Gansino

Guided tours

Day 1

Tomorrow
9:00-16:00

Ávila

1 Agricultural ecosystem

This environment is made up of traditional crops such as barley and wheat, alternated with grazing lands, along with fallow or uncultivated fields, which are very interesting for the biological communities they host.

0.33 Horas

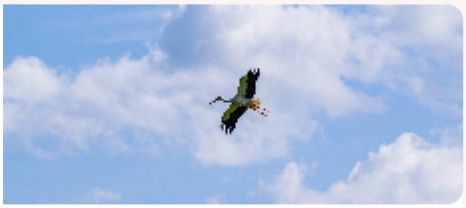

Ávila

2 Stork and Heron Colony

We are in an environment of great ecological value: an important colony of storks and grey herons, which have found refuge in this stone pine grove and which currently holds the maximum possible number of nests.

0.33 Horas

Ávila

3 Gansino Farmstead

We come across a series of constructions intended to serve the agricultural and livestock uses that have developed in this area for decades.

0.33 Horas

Ávila

4 Holm Oak Woodland and Pasture

We are in an area of great natural richness: to the north, holm oak groves with Mediterranean scrub species and mushrooms such as Ganoderma lucidum; to the south, riparian forest and biodiverse pastures.

0.33 Horas

Ávila

5 María Pine Grove

At the end of the route, a stand of stone pines stands out, once exploited and now partly deteriorated, hosting various bird species, especially nests of booted eagles.

0.33 Horas

