

Day 1

Tomorrow
9:00-16:00

Ávila

1 Parking / Start of the route

El Soto is the great green lung of the city. In this initial area, a great mix of tree species stands out, with the native species that we will find throughout the entire space combining.

🕒 Horas

Ávila

2 Ash Grove

This ash grove has a low density of trees, allowing the presence of various species on the edges and clearings of the stand such as hawthorns, blackthorns or brambles.

🕒 Horas

Ávila

3 Riverside Forest

The Adaja River is the backbone of this space, and around it one of the most biodiverse ecosystems found in the city and its surroundings thrives.

🕒 Horas

Ávila

4 Ecotone (confluence of ecosystems)

The Adaja River is the backbone of this space, and around it one of the most biodiverse ecosystems found in the city and its surroundings thrives.

🕒 Horas

Ávila

5 Path to El Fresno

In this area near the river, green, fresh, and sometimes flooded environments thrive, offering a perfect habitat for birds in search of food

🕒 Horas

